The research for greater comfort and convenience in workstations led to the creation of sliding desk tops, which run in depth and are equipped with a perfectly integrated cable management system to not compromise the aesthetic.

Workstation

The simplicity of the shapes and the functional appearance are brought further out through the combination between the wood and the metal designed for the frame.

In the belief that research for innovation happens through exchanging ideas and communication; we have designed multiple solutions for both briefings and formal meetings. Each product is part of a larger range to help creating an aesthetical coherence within the space.
